ABOUT US

THE COMPANY

The Centenary Stage Company Young Performers Workshop (YPW) is a musical theatre training company under the auspices of the Centenary Stage Company, a not-for-profit Professional Theatre Company in residence on the campus of Centenary University in Hackettstown, NJ. YPW is dedicated to the enrichment of young lives through the use of theatre arts and serves as a greenhouse for cultivating young theatre performers, ages 8 - 18. The company is one of a few that provides young people with hands-on real world production experience while building life-long skills. Career minded individuals can prepare for the rigors of a professional career, while those not aiming for a professional career benefit from the company with its emphasis on discipline, self-worth and the development of communication skills.

THE PROGRAM

Stage Bound: A Youth Production Program is the newest youth theatre initiative from Centenary Stage Company's YPW. Created for aspiring performers ages 8-18, Stage Bound offers students the opportunity to immerse themselves in the discipline of theatre arts through the rehearsal and performance processes, while developing skills in acting, singing, dancing and creative collaboration. Under the guidance of experienced theatre professionals, the program produces (1) fully produced musical theatre production per session. Through this process participants receive quality theatrical training in a fun and supportive environment that encourages creativity, discipline, and personal growth. Additionally, all registered participants will have the opportunity to be chosen and cast in the CSC mainstage holiday production of Disney's Frozen, The Broadway Musical. Casting in the mainstage CSC production is not guaranteed and not all students will be cast. Selection for Disney's Frozen, The Broadway Musical will be based on auditions.

No experience is necessary and all applicants must audition prior to registering.

As part of Centenary Stage Company's longstanding commitment to arts education and professional theatre, Stage Bound provides young artists with an exciting opportunity to learn, perform, and become part of a thriving theatrical community. Whether you're stepping on stage for the first time or have years of experience, Stage Bound offers a fun, supportive environment where young artists can grow as performers while making lasting friendships.
